

HCBS RULE 3 PERSONAL PREFERENCES

Residents have the right to wear their own clothing. In addition, we believe that residents have the right to their own style. We believe that when a person makes individual choices including choices of what they want to wear, they feel that they have more autonomy over their lives and have a better quality of life. Staff will discuss weather appropriate clothing while giving the resident final say over their outfit.

Part of one's personal style includes grooming choices. This includes personal preference regarding hair length, facial hair, use of makeup, and when to fulfill activities of daily living such as bathing.
